TOMBS RECORD

Twenty Prisoners are Charged With Homicide

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Charged with murder, Guido Montefiore, 29 years old, a Sicilian living at 191 Mulberry street, was admitted to the Tombs yesterday, making just an even score of prisoners here now waiting trial for homicide.

It is the largest number held for this crime in years and the prisoners are properly guarded, being sent to their cells at the time of several keepers.

Montefiore is accused of murdering a fellow countryman, Salvatore Costello, 36 years old, of 22 Mulberry street. The police gained little or no information leading to the cause of the light in which Costello was mortally wounded.

Policeman Trefoeger, who arrested Montefiore, says he saw a crowd of thirty or more men around 83 Mulberry street about 9 o'clock Thursday night. He arrived just in time to see Montefiore leap back into the crowd and pass something to one of the men. Then he heard Costello shouting that he had been stabbed and saw him fall bleeding to the sidewalk.

Montefiore, in his abdomen, was inflicted a mortal wound. The wound was crescent shaped, about eight inches from end to end, and eight inches from side to side. It was inflicted by two other prisoners, who heard his call for help, and Costello fled and hurried to the police station.

The surgeons removed the wound, but it was not fatal. They gave him a little injection, and he lived until 8 o'clock yesterday morning.

The men who were in the group that tried to subvert the police, they had the wrong man and said that the real culprit had escaped. Police to get Montefiore free, they said, the Sicilian rule of silence was in place. Nothing could be done, they said, to give the night shift.

No weapon was found on any of the men. The police thought the two men had quarreled over a business matter. The police learned a few days before they had had some disagreement over something of the sort.

The people are much incensed at the

In the message they take exception

Concluding the message says:

"The abandonment of Fort Brown will be a verdict against us attained by misrepresentation and do us a great injury, leaving our frontier unprotected."

Local theatre-goers have been much pleased to greet the familiar features of Mr. DeDoyn, the popular and talented actor who, for the past two seasons, made a most pronounced hit in this city, on the stage again at the head of one of the strongest stock companies in New England. The first production gives one an idea of the high class of plays to be presented, for, through special arrangements with Hobbie & Co., of New York, Mr. DeDoyn is enabled to open the theatre with "The Palace of the King," the dramatization of Hall Caine's celebrated story, and the play by which Miss Viola Allen has won enduring fame in the theatrical world. Mr. DeDoyn took the theatre some time ago, and since then has devoted himself exclusively to the work of selecting a company that will be second to none in New England. Mr. DeDoyn is fortunate in securing as leading lady Miss Eugenie Hayden, a beautiful and talented young actress, whose ability is unquestioned and who will unquestionably become a big favorite in this city. the Shooting to Find the Others

SPRINGFIELD, Vt., Aug. 27.—Geo. Niles, chief electrician of the Springfield electric railway company, about 125 yesterday afternoon, shot Frank and Andrew Blanchard, brothers, wounding the latter twice. Only three shots were fired.

The affair took place at Glendon's mill, midway between this town and Charlestown. Niles is a boarder at the home kept by the mother and sister of the Blanchards, the brothers also making it their home when they are in this vicinity. It is said the Blanchards had been drinking yesterday.

According to Mr. Niles, early yesterday afternoon the Blanchard brothers were having an altercation with two Indians in front of the house and their mother and sister went out to persuade them to desist. The boys later came into the house and began to beat the women. Niles, who was in his room at the time, told them to stop and, according to his version, they turned upon him.

Intending to frighten them off, he drew a revolver and warned them not to approach. They did not phase him, one of them saying that he did not care if Niles had a gun.

Both men closed in on Niles and attempted to strike him, and he began shooting.

Electric Car Struck by an Auto

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 27.—A collision occurred on the Oakland beach route of the Suburban Railroad company yesterday afternoon between an electric car and an automobile, with the result that one man was instantly killed, another died later and a third person was hurt.

OLIVER LABELLE of New Bedford, Police Inspector A. E. FREEMAN of Fall River.

Labelle was the chauffeur and came over to Fall River from New Bedford. The automobile party was from Fall River, there being seven all told, including Police Inspector Aime E. Freeman, his wife and daughter, of 350 South Main street, Fall River; the inspector's brother, Samuel Freeman of Canada, George J. Paquette, a watchmaker of New Bedford, Mrs. Paquette and Labelle.

The first that was known of their being in this section was when the flagman at the crossing of the Apawamut road, near Lakewood, held up the automobile while tagging a south-bound electric.

A north-bound car was also approaching, and this was being flagged when the chauffeur started up his car and ran fast down the grade and upon the rails. The car struck the electric car directly in the center, cutting through the front. The remainder of the machine was thrown 50 feet and was required to pieces.

LETTER TO MORSE COACH COMPANY, LOWELL, MASS.

Dear Sirs:—There's twice as much horse in one horse it may be a name as there is in two or three others together.

So with paints too. If a painter can do your job with 10 gallons Devoe for $50 it will take 12, 15 or 20 of other paints, and the cost of a job is about $50 a gallon, whatever the paint may be.

There are many celebrated paint-makers, only one quart of paint in a gallon will do to paint four gallons of surface to get one gallon of paint. The worst horse you've got is as good as that paint, and he'll go as far.

The less-gallons paint is the paint, as the most-horse horse is the horse. Yours truly,

KILLED BY GIRL

The Czar's Adjutant Was Shot Dead

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 27.—The unsuccessful attempt Saturday on the life of Premier Stolypin, with its sickening, useless slaughter of 32 persons, was followed last night by another revolutionary outrage, in which Gen. Min, commander of the Semenovskiy guard regiment, and who, since his promotion to a general, has been attached as a personal adjutant to the side of the emperor, was killed on the station platform at Puchkov by a young woman, who fired five shots into his body from an automatic revolver. Gen. Min, without resistance, submitted to death. The capture of the girl was effected by Gen. Min's wife, who held her until the arrival of an officer.

This was the third successive attempt on the life of Gen. Min, who was condemned to death by the revolutionary tribunal after the Moscow revolt last December on account of the stern repression practiced by a battalion under his command and especially for the wholesale execution of persons condemned by a military court martial for being caught with arms in their hands.

Gen. Min was returning from the capital to his summer residence at Puchkov and had just greeted his wife and daughter on the platform, when a young woman approached from behind and fired three shots into his back and then three more into his body as he sank to the ground. Further shots were prevented by Min's wife, who then herself upon the ground and seized the hand which held the pistol. The woman did not attempt to escape, but she cautioned Min not to touch a hand which she had placed on the platform before shooting the general, explaining that it contained a bomb.

The girl acknowledged that she had done the deed, saying she had executed the sentence of the fighting organization of the social revolutionists, but she refused to give her name.

The death sentence had long hung over the head of Gen. Min, owing to the defection into which he had fallen because of alleged enemies. He, as colonel, commanded the Semenovskiy regiment when the people were shot down near the technological institute in St. Petersburg on Oct. 31, and it was stated he wanted to see the buildings of the institute on fire and roast the students.

Min was sent by the emperor to suppress the disorders at Saratov after the assassination of Lieut. Gen. Sakharoff in December, and when the trouble there was quelled he was dispatched to Moscow to assist in putting down the uprising there.

On April 24 a member of the fighting organization of the revolutionists, after being arrested, was released after Min's residence several times and requested to see him, excited the suspicion of the attaches of the household and was arrested. It developed that he was a revolutionist and was armed with a revolver and a dagger.

On July 15 last it was reported that some of the soldiers of the Semenovskiy guard at Krasnoye-Selo had served notice on Gen. Min that they intended to kill him at the first opportunity for forcing them to murder their fellow citizens in the Moscow revolt, and that Min, in fear of his life, had fled the camp.

By a remarkable coincidence Gen. Min only last week, after the conclusion of the maneuvers at Krasnoye-Selo, thanked the bodyguard which had accompanied him since the first attempt was made on his life, saying that the ordinary police of Petersburg would be sufficient to guard him and his wife.

During the Moscow revolt, Min, who was then a colonel, commanded the 1st battalion of the Semenovskiy guard, which operated within the city itself. The second battalion of the guard, under command of Col. Riman, conducted repression along the railroad to Kazan for which acts Riman also was condemned to death. Undeterred by several attempts to execute this sentence Riman accepted an appointment on the staff of Gen. Skladkov, governor general of Warsaw, after the bomb outrages at Warsaw, and left two days ago to assist in the suppression of anarchy in Poland.

THE CREW KILLED

New York Central Engine Exploded

LITTLE FALLS, N. Y., Aug. 27.—The boiler of a freight locomotive of the New York Central railroad exploded just west of here yesterday, causing the death of Engineer Christ Wagner of Albany and Fireman Edward Hall of Oneida. The locomotive was drawing a heavy east-bound freight and had just passed tower 25-A when the explosion occurred.

The boiler was thrown from the tracks high in the air and landed 100 feet away, blocking all four tracks of the road. A freak of the explosion was that neither the driving wheels nor the tender of the engine was derailed, but ran on with the train for a quarter of a mile.

Wagner was thrown from the cab by the explosion and struck on the rails of the passenger track. Death was instantaneous. Fireman Hall was thrown out of the other side of the cab and his back was broken.

Eye witnesses of the accident had narrow escapes from being injured by flying pieces of iron. One piece of the locomotive was hurled a distance of a quarter of a mile and landed down a telephone line. The engine had just taken water at a tank and the cause of the explosion has not been ascertained.

Supt. Warren Expects to Find the Others

John McDonald, 14, of Chelsea; Arthur White, 13, of Somerville; Leo Everlin, 14, of Melrose; and Fred Norris, 14, of Watertown, escaped from the Middlesex county truant school at North Chatham Saturday and Sunday. One of the runaways was caught near Boston but which one of the four has not been learned. Superintendent Warren of the truant school was notified that one of the boys had been apprehended and he went to Boston today to get him. At the truant school under Mr. Warren it is seldom that any of the boys wanted to run away but the monotony of the summer season and thoughts of the beach no doubt led the lads to turn their backs on the truant school. Supt. Warren expects to have the quartet back in a few days.

RECORDS GONE

Sheridan and Flanagan Win Honors

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—While it was not expected that Martin J. Sheridan would be able to assail any records yesterday because of the rain, the big athlete surprised everybody in the big crowd that gathered at Coney park to witness the games of the Irish carnival by once more shattering the world's mark in the discus throw.

His hurl yesterday, made from a 7-foot circle of slippery grass, was 134 ft. 4 in., 5 inches better than the mark he made last year in the Canada championship games.

Sheridan broke the record last Sunday by throwing the Greek platter 127 ft. 11 in., but was not officially credited with the mark because he happened to take the discus away with him instead of turning it over to the A. A. P. officials to be weighed. This time, however, he saw to it that the discus was turned over to the proper authorities and his throw will not go for naught.

Another world's record was set by John J. Flanagan of the Irish-American A. C. He was entered in the 5-pound weight throwing competition, and using the unweighted run and follow style he sent the big iron ball 45 ft. 5 in. The old record was a foot short of this mark.

LED DOUBLE LIFE

So Says Son About His Father

CLAIMS $7,000,000 ESTATE

Says That He Is Heir to It

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Robert L. Barry, 19 years old, is in this city seeking proof of his identity to establish his claim to the $7,000,000 estate of the late Dr. John H. Barry, who the boy says is his father. Dr. Barry died in New York about three years ago.

The young man presents a written affidavit and some corroborative verbal testimony to prove that Dr. Barry led a double life for nearly 20 years in New York. He hopes to find the missing witnesses of two marriages and another will, which he says, he is positive his father made, leaving to him the bulk of his estate.

The only legal action taken to far by the young man is through Atty. William H. Sullivan in the serving of a notice upon W. C. Barry of this city, a brother of the late John H. Barry not to destroy, pending court proceedings, certain documents in his possession said to prove the identity of Robert L. Barry. These papers, Robert Barry says, he turned over to William C. Barry about a year ago in return for a loan of $25. He states that recently he demanded his papers back, but that Mr. Barry declined to receive the money or return the papers.

TWO WERE KILLED

Electric Car Struck by an Auto

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 27.—A collision occurred on the Oakland beach route of the Suburban Railroad company yesterday afternoon between an electric car and an automobile, with the result that one man was instantly killed, another died later and a third person was hurt.

The dead: OLIVER LABELLE of New Bedford.

POLICE INSPECTOR A. E. FREGATE of Fall River.

Labelle was the chauffeur and came over to Fall River from New Bedford. The automobile party was from Fall River, there being seven all told, including Police Inspector Alvin E. Fregate, his wife and daughter, of 1310 South Main street, Fall River; the inspector's brother, Samuel Fregate of Canada; George J. Paquette, a watchmaker of New Bedford, Mrs. Paquette and Labelle.

The first that was known of their being in this section was when the flagman at the crossing of the Approaching road, near Lakewood, held up the automobile while flagging a south-bound electric.

A north-bound car was also approaching, and this was being flagged when the chauffeur started up his car and ran fast down the grade and up the rails. The big electric struck the auto directly in the center, cutting off the tonneau. The remainder of the machine was thrown 30 feet and was ground to pieces.

KILLED BY GIRL

The Czar's Adjutant Was Shot Dead

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 27.—The unsuccessful attempt Saturday on the life of Emperor Nicholas, with its sickening, useless slaughter of 22 persons, was followed last night by another revolutionary outrage in which Gen. Min, commander of the Semenovskiy guard regiment, and who since his promotion to be a general, has been attached as a personal adjutant to the emperor, was killed on the steps of the palace. The emperor, who was in the palace at the time, was not hurt.

The capture of the girl was effected by Gen. Min's wife, who held her until the arrival of an officer.

This was the third successive attempt on the life of Gen. Min, who was condemned to death by the revolutionists immediately after the Moscow revolution last December on account of the stern repression practiced by a battalion under his command and especially for the wholesale execution of persons condemned by military courts for being caught with arms in their hands.

Gen. Min was returning from the capital to his summer residence at Paterhof and had just greeted his wife and daughter on the platform, when a young woman approached from behind and fired two shots into his back and then three more into his body as he sank to the ground. Further shots were prevented by Mme. Min, who threw herself upon the murderers, seized the hand which held the pistol.

The woman did not attempt to escape, but she cautioned Mme. Min not to touch a hand which she had placed on the platform before identifying the general, explaining that it contained a bomb.

To the police the girl acknowledged that she had done the deed, saying she had executed the sentence of the fighting organization of the social revolutionists, but she refused to give her name.

The death sentence had long hung over the head of Gen. Min, owing to the disfavor into which he had fallen because of alleged cruelties. He, an colonel, commanded the Semenovskiy regiment when the people were shot down near the technological institute in St. Petersburg on Oct. 31, and it was stated he wanted to set the buildings of the institute on fire and roast the students.

Min was sent by the emperor to suppress the disorders at Saratov after the assassination of Count Gen. Sokoloff in December, and when the trouble there was quelled he was dispatched to Moscow to assist in putting down the uprising there.

April 24 a number of the fighting organization of the revolutionists, disguised as an officer, who had called at Min's residence several times and requested to see him, excited the suspicion of the attaches of the household and was arrested. It developed that he was a revolutionist and was armed with a revolver and a dagger.

On July 18 last it was reported that some of the soldiers of the Semenovskiy guard at Krasnaya-Sloba had served notice on Gen. Min that they had intended to kill him at the first opportunity for forcing them to murder Rich, fellow citizens in the Moscow revolt, and that Min, in fear of his life, had fled the camp.

By a remarkable coincidence Gen. Min only last week after the conclusion of the maneuvers at Krasnaya-Sloba identified the bodyguard which had accompanied him since the first attempt was made on his life, saying that the ordinary police of Petrograd would be sufficient to guard him and his wife.

During the Moscow revolt, Min, who was then a colonel, commanded the 1st battalion of the Semenovskiy guard, which operated within the city itself. The second battalion of the guard, under command of Col. Blinov, conducted repression along the railroad to Kazan for which acts Blinov also was condemned to death. Undeterred by several attempts to execute the sentence Blinov accepted an appointment on the staff of Gen. Skalon, governor general of Warsaw, and left two days ago to assist in the suppression of anarchy in Poland.

THE CREW KILLED

New York Central Engine Exploded

LITTLE FALLS, N. Y., Aug. 27.—The boiler of a freight locomotive of the New York Central railroad exploded just west of here yesterday, causing the death of Engineer Chris Wagner of Albany and Fireman Edward Hall of Oneida. The locomotive was drawing a heavy east-bound freight and had just passed tower 23-A when the explosion occurred.

The boiler was thrown from the tracks high in the air and landed 100 feet away, blocking all four tracks of the road. A freak of the explosion was that neither the driving wheels nor the tender of the engine was dented, but ran on with the train for a quarter of a mile.

Wagner was thrown from the cab by the explosion and struck on the side of the passenger track. Death was instantaneous. Fireman Hall was thrown out of the other side of the cab and his back was broken.

Eye witnesses of the accident had narrow escapes from being injured by flying pieces of iron. One piece of the locomotive was hurled at the face of a quarter of a mile and knocked down a telephone pole. The engine had just taken water at Herkimer and the cause of the explosion has not been ascertained.

SHOT BROTHERS

Niles Fired as They Closed in on Him

THE SHERIFF WAS SUMMONED

By Man Who Did the Shooting

SPRINGFIELD, Vt., Aug. 27.—Geo. Niles, chief electrician of the Springfield electric railway company, about 1:30 yesterday afternoon, shot Frank and Andrew Blanchard, brothers, wounding the latter twice. Only three shots were fired.

The affair took place at Goulet's mills, midway between this town and Charlestown, N. H. Niles is a boarder at the house kept by the mother and sister of the Blanchards, the brothers also making it their home when they are in this vicinity. It is said the Blanchards had been drinking yesterday.

According to Mr. Niles, early yesterday afternoon the Blanchard brothers were having an altercation with two Italians in front of the house and their mother and sister went out to persuade them to desist. The boys later came into the house and began to berate the women for their interference. Niles, who was in his room at the time, told them to stop, and, according to his version, they turned upon him.

Intending to frighten them off, he drew a revolver and warned them not to approach.

This did not phase them, one of them saying that he did not care if Niles had a cannon.

Both men closed in on Niles and attempted to strike him, and he began shooting.

ONE CAUGHT NEAR BOSTON

Supt. Warren Expects to Find the Others

John McDonald, 11, of Chelsea; Arthur Walter, 13, of Somerville; Leo Everett, 14, of Melrose; and Fred Norris, 14, of Watertown, escaped from the Middlesex county truant school at North Chelmsford Saturday and Sunday.

One of the runaways was caught near Boston but which one of the four has not been learned. Superintendent Warren of the truant school was notified that one of the boys had been apprehended and he went to Boston today to get him. At the truant school under Mr. Warren it is seldom that any of the boys wanted to run away but the monotony of the summer season and thoughts of the beach no doubt led the lads to turn their backs on the truant school. Supt. Warren expects to have the quartet back in a few days.

Sheridan and Flanagan Win Honors

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—While it was not expected that Martin J. Sheridan would be able to assail any records yesterday because of the rain, the big athlete surprised everybody in the big crowd that gathered at Coney park to witness the games of the Irish carnival by once more shattering the world's mark in the discus throw.

His hurl yesterday, made from a 7-foot circle of slippery grass, was 131 ft. 4 in., 5 inches better than the mark he made last year in the Canada championship games.

Sheridan broke the record last Sunday by throwing the Greek platter 127 ft. 11 in., but was not officially credited with the mark because he happened to take the discus away with him instead of turning it over to the A. A. U. officials to be weighed. This time, however, he saw to it that the discus was turned over to the proper authorities and his throw will not go for naught.

Another world's record was set by John J. Flanagan of the Irish-American A. C. He was entered in the open-pound weight throwing competition, and using the unlimited run and follow style he sent the big iron ball 43 ft. 5 in. The old record was a foot short of this mark.

LED DOUBLE LIFE

So Says Son About His Father

CLAIMS $7,000,000 ESTATE

Says That He Is Heir to It

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Robert L. Barry, 19 years old, is in this city seeking proof of his identity to establish his claim to the $7,000,000 estate of the late Dr. John H. Barry, who the boy says is his father. Dr. Barry died in New York about three years ago.

The young man presents written evidence and some corroborative verbal testimony to prove that Dr. Barry led a double life for nearly 20 years in New York. He hopes to find the missing witnesses of two marriages and another will, which he says, he is positive his father made, leaving to him the bulk of his estate.

The only legal action taken so far by the young man is through Atty. William H. Sullivan in the serving of a notice upon W. C. Barry of this city, a brother of the late John H. Barry not to destroy, pending court proceedings, certain documents in his possession and to prove the identity of Robert L. Barry. These papers, Robert Barry says, he turned over to William C. Barry about a year ago in return for the loaned payment of the loan and demanded his papers back, but that Mr. Barry declined to receive the money or return the papers.

THE GOOD AND THE BAD.

President Roosevelt used to believe that there were good trusts and bad trusts, but he seems to have had poor luck in finding the good ones. Nevertheless he joins the stand-pat conspiracy to protect all trusts, good and bad.

CANADIANS WANT INDEPENDENCE

The Canadian wing of the Federation of Labor is moving towards independence. It does not care to be connected with the American organization but wants to exist purely as a Canadian body. It is somewhat encouraging to find the Canadians making a move towards independence. They have been such submissive subjects of Britain that we supposed they had but little appreciation of what independence means. If these people would carry the spirit of independence a little farther and insist upon absolute freedom from British sway then they would find their country take a jump forward in progress and prosperity such as it never experienced before. An independent Canada would rise far above what is possible for Canada as a British colony.

THE CUBAN SITUATION

The appeal of President Palma of Cuba to the United States for rapid fire guns and men to man them is rather surprising. It has been made before any systematic effort has been made by the Cuban government to suppress the insurrection. If in the long run it appears that Cuba is really unable to cope with the insurrection then, of course, the United States must intervene.

But there is another aspect of the situation which is liable to reflect upon Americans which is that Americans in the Isle of Pines are blamed with starting the agitation against the Cuban government and in favor of annexation. They favor not only the annexation of the Isle and Pines but of Cuba itself. Their object is exploitation of franchises and natural resources of the islands, and President Roosevelt being committed to the imperial policy and the "big stick" is believed to be at heart in sympathy with the object. These islands in case the canal be constructed would have valuable strategic importance, but they are not ours and we have no right to seize them although under our arrangement with the Cuban people under their new constitution we are to protect the little republic from foes from within as well as without. Therefore, we presume, Cuba's appeal for aid will eventually be granted and a force necessary to suppress the insurrection sent to the scene of trouble.

ROOSEVELTIAN CARNegieIZATION OF ENGLISH SPELLING.

President Roosevelt has perpetrated something in the nature of a literary sacrilege upon the English tongue in proclaiming that henceforth all the public documents shall be printed in the simplified spelling as recommended by the Carnegie School of spelling.

Had he gone a little further and proclaimed in favor of phonetic spelling as given in the preceding paragraph and originally advocated by the late Sir Isaac Pitman he would not have shocked the literary world much more than he has done.

The English language although of very definite derivation has become largely an eye language and the changes proposed will destroy to a great extent the association of words as they appear to the eye and as they are fixed in the memory. True, the eye may become accustomed to the change but with future books printed in the reform spelling their comparison with the literature of the past will be very striking and the reading of both, by young people especially, will be very confusing. The result will lead to orthographical chaos in schools, in examinations and even in letter writing. There will be no uniformity until the so-called reform spelling be universally adopted and that we believe will not come as a result of the president's edict.

It will be amusing to watch the effect in England where there is such reverence for old forms that the "u" in labour and in favour are retained with supreme indifference to American usage. The London press has already condemned the president's action and it represents the literary sentiment on this question.

But now as to the spelling of the 300 words of the list sent out by the Carnegie board. A great many of them only fix the preferred spelling of words that have been sometimes spelled in two ways but not correctly so. Thus in "abridgment" and "acknowledgment" the "e" is omitted before the suffix "ment" just as has been the case in common usage for a quarter of a century.

In some cases the changes will increase the number of meanings for a word and may, therefore, lead to ambiguity as for example in "past" for passed.

The reform spellers have made a great swine at the affix "ed," contracting it to "t" as in stopt, leapt, clapt, clapt, clapt, confest, winkt.

The termination "er" as in censor, nitre meter, is changed to "er." These are the changes which will most seriously affect the appearance of the words except in such cases as "tho," "thoro," "thoroly," "thruout" and some others.

The people who have been blaming President Roosevelt for overstepping the constitutional limits of his authority will here have another substantial ground for criticism. Will his political opponents approve his action, will the literary critics submit to his dictation or will the lexicographers of England acquiesce in this bold attempt to modify the king's English? Furthermore, will King Edward of England be induced for the sake of uniformity to proclaim in favor of the Carnegie reform? We doubt it. And we doubt whether it will be generally adopted in this country unless its adoption be urged by the press for the sake of uniformity. English spelling has been the despair of foreigners who have attempted to master the language; but none of the difficulties thus complained of are touched by the changes recommended by the Simplified Spelling Board.

There is a large class of words in which a consonant is doubled without warrant such as travelling, marvellous, banqueting, kidnapping, and a great many similar words in which the consonant should not be doubled except where the accent falls on that syllable as in disappelling, lefted and others. We notice that the Simplified Board has not yet decided to eliminate the unnecessary letter in such cases.

SEEN AND HEARD

It is impossible to see things as they are, at least in the good sense of the word.

The depth of feeling displayed by the people in the case of the late President is a proof of the power of the imagination.

A man who is a member of a committee will find it difficult to see things as they are, at least in the good sense of the word. The committee is a body of men who are appointed to do something, and they are often very much influenced by the opinions of the majority.

CHIEF WAS SHOT

While Raiding an Italian Saloon

MERIDEN, Conn., Aug. 27.—Chief of Police Charles B. Bowen was seriously shot while raiding an Italian saloon yesterday afternoon. James Mussetti, who did the act, is held under a charge of attempted murder, and there is considerable talk of lynching on the streets, as the chief is one of the most popular men in the city.

The Italian members of the order of Modern Woodmen of the World, and phlegm here yesterday, and the authorities gave orders that all the saloons be closed. However, one Rocco di Nonno, who runs a "speakeasy," tried to do a little quiet business, and he was paid a visit by the chief of police and a patrolman.

The officers went into the house where the liquor was being sold and caught the men in the act. As he opened the door Mussetti, who had been drinking, drew a revolver and fired at the chief. The first bullet grazed the back of his neck, and as he tried again the chief dodged and the bullet, meant for his heart, went through his left shoulder.

The chief pulled his own gun and soon he had all the men in the room under arrest. In spite of the blood which was pouring from his wound, the chief was pouring from his wound. The scene was all the more necessary, and a hearing will be given today if the chief is able to appear against them.

OUT ON STRIKE

ALL BUT TWO CARS IN 'FRISCO TIED UP.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—With the exception of the California and the Geary street lines street railway traffic here was suspended yesterday as the result of a strike for higher wages by conductors and motormen of the United Railway system.

The strike went into effect yesterday morning. There was no disorder.

Further action in the strike awaits the arrival today of Patrick C. Quinn, president of the United Railway Investment company.

Automobiles and other vehicles were used yesterday and they did a good business.

Although the California and the Geary street lines were in operation, their limited equipment was inadequate. The employees of these two lines will not be called out, but they expect their employers to follow the lead of the larger company in any change that may be made in the wage scale.

The action of the carmen's union was taken at a mass meeting to enforce the demands for $3 a day of eight hours. The men say reports were circulated that the company was constructing barracks for strike-breakers, and the strike was declared.

TOOK MORPHINE

NEW YORK ACTRESS DIED IN HOSPITAL.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Teresa Wilson, an actress, who the police say lived at 125 West 44th street, accompanied by Ruth Miller, who shares her apartments, returned home at about 3 o'clock yesterday morning. When about to retire Miss Wilson, who uses morphine, took an overdose of it.

The drug began to affect her at once and she ran screaming, half clothed, into the street. Miss Miller followed her and found Patrolman Wilson at 14th street and 7th avenue. Wilson called up St. Vincent's hospital. Dr. Shea responded, and after an unsuccessful attempt to treat the actress, removed her to the hospital, where she died.

Miss Miller told Patrolman Wilson that Miss Wilson took the morphine to make her sleep. The room was dark and she used too much.

OPERA HOUSE

In these times of good, bad and indifferent repertoire companies the public hardly knew what to expect until after the Monday or Tuesday night production, but they are not in doubt when the Bennett-Moulton Company comes to our city, as the name "Bennett-Moulton" becomes a household word.

It can be truthfully said that they are the "Barrow" in repertoire. The company is backed by capital and brains and the public knows that they will make good their promises. It has come to that pass where the public expect a great deal for 10, 20 and 30 cents and the management of this excellent company have put forth their best efforts, this season, to please the public tonight at the Opera House.

Tickets, for this engagement, are now on sale at the box office.

New Loan Co., 54 Lee street. Money loaned on personal property.
